Look to Your Interests.

The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equaled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet-bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than to the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. O'Hare. His manufacture is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. Hundreds of workmen are employed, and thousands of dollars weekly disbursed. As a matter of course pride, and subservient economy, purchasers will consult their best interests in purchasing of Mr. O'Hare.

SMAKESPEARE'S DRAMA—Shakespeare, who, according to a western editor, was a writer of no little ability and of considerable originality, says, very sagaciously, that "the apparel oft proclaims the man." This fact is undeniable, and had the great poet flourished two hundred and seventy-five years later, he would, doubtless, have made old Polonius go a step further, and advise his son to purchase all his apparel only at No. 4 Masonic Temple. Mr. Swain has an excellent assortment of tailoring and gentlemen's furnishing goods as can be found in the city, and he is prepared to furnish everything in his line.

UNIVERSAL BREAD—In a article of food should move connoisseurs be exercised than in the "stuff of life"—bread. In order to have it healthy and nutritious, good flour and pure yeast are necessary. Hurley's Quick Yeast is the best article in use, and in using it there is no fear of swallowing a dyspeptic with your breakfast.

LOOK AT THE AUTHORITY.

Dr. ROSEAU—Dear Sir! It is due to you and the public, more especially the afflicted, to say that I have given your invaluable Scandina-via Blood Purifier a fair trial in a number of cases of diseases arising from unhealthful blood, in all of which it has exceeded my expectations, and come fully up to its recommendations. I do, therefore, with pleasure, recommend the article to the afflicted and disease inmates.

Your truly,

J. E. JAMES HAWES,

No. 117 Market.

ADVICE TO LADIES—We are aware there are many of our lady readers who are complaining of weakness and debility. Our advice is to go at once and get some of McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It is a delicious tonic, and just the thing to strengthen and invigorate the whole organization, and purify the blood. See advertisement in another column. Sold here by all drug-gists.

jai-dwlm.

ELEGANT, NEAT AND TASTY—J. Armstrong, on Main, opposite the National Hotel, has a most elegant stock of men's and boys' clothing, which he is now offering a great bargain. Those in want of superior, handsome, well-made clothing, at very low prices, for either men's or youths' wear, will consult their interest by visiting Armstrong's at once.

PEBBLE SPOTACLES—If you want a pair of fine spectacles, either the pebble, prismatic, or crystal, go to P. W. Remondy, on Third street, where you will find a great variety. We cordially recommend this house to ladies in search of the latest and richest goods imported this season. Store on the southeast corner of Fourth and Market streets.

GOOD NEWS—At a time like this, when the stock of dry lumber is small and badly as-sorted, we take pleasure in informing the public that Alexander, Ellis & Co. have three million feet of dry lumber, well assort'd; and they are turning out large quantities of sash, doors, blinds, scroos, and every article of building material, of the best quality, at their works, located on the south side of Fourth street, just above Preston. Call them at their office, on Main street, nearly opposite the Galt House, Louisville, Ky.

FURNITURE—We invite the special attention of strangers visiting the city, or persons con templating house-keeping, to the large and elegant assortment of furniture at the ware rooms of Messrs. John M. Stokes & Son. They have constantly on hand the largest and best assortment of parlor, chamber and dining-room furniture, with all the latest novelties in the Western country, which are selling at prices which cannot fail to suit their customers. This firm is the oldest in the city; their work may be relied on as the best that can be made. We would advise all who are wanting articles to call to us at No. 600 Main street.

J. D. BONDURANT, Sixth street, near Main, dealer in Agricultural Implements and machinery of all kinds, field and garden seeds, mow powers, threshing machines, mowing and reaping machines, horse hay racks, plows, harrows, cultivators, corn shellers, straw cutters, wheat fans, corn planters, seed drills, cider mills, corn mills, cob and cob cradles, rail-road wheelbarrows, road rollers, chain pumps, charnre, meat cutters, sewage stoves, apple presses, mowing scythes, grain cradles, chaff, spades, hoes, hoes, mowers, grain bags, feed bags, hydraulic cement, wood, lime, caliche plaster, Indian grass, canary and orange orange seeds, etc., etc.

SUNDAY MORNING

JAN. 8, 1860

The War on Douglas.

It was plain enough at the start to any one's vision, not wilfully blind, that the war on Douglas was but a war on the Northern Democracy. It has now become too evident to escape the notice of any one. He is the embodiment of their sentiment, and the champion of their cause. The more he is assailed, the more they will rally round him, and the more uncompromising he will be. Assauls on him are not but assaults on them. They see it, and will resent it. If he is not a Democrat, neither are they; if he is a traitor, so are they; there is a Democrat who doesn't see that such a war will not pay expenses? Where is it driving to? What is to be the end of it? It is well known that the Northern Democracy embraces ninety-nine one-hundredths of their section.

Lord John Russell has received an earnest memorial from leading London merchants, entreating him to exert his influence toward settling the difficulties of China without resort to arms.

The Brussels Gazette states that a customs officer, shot in the front of the Upper Silesian, suddenly surprised to a band of smugglers, who fled him to a thick forest, and abandoned him to his fate. The unfortunate man was found some days after in that position; all the flesh was torn off his body, and he was supposed that, being rendered desperate by hunger, he had been forced to gnaw himself.

Sir Rohan's Ghost? Mr. Fitz James O'Brien says he did not write, although he should have felt proud to have been the author of the work.

Mr. Andrew Eble, Assemblyman elect from Waukesha, Wis., while hunting with a friend, in Fond du Lac county, wounded a deer, which escaped him. The next morning, they tracked it to aicket, and by the direction of the owner, who had a dog, shot it down, cut up, went into the bushes to start the animal. As he was returning, having been unsuccessful, his companion mistook him for the deer, fired at him, and killed him almost instantly.

In Dewitt, Ia., there are twenty-two religious and benevolent organizations among 1,000 inhabitants. Among them is an institution known as the "Styrene Society."

The trustees of the British Museum have at length taken into serious consideration the difficulties in which they are placed by the vast accumulation of literary and scientific treasures which press upon the walls of the building. He has already secured specimens in the Cumberland, Westmorland, South Lan-caster, and many of the Southern dialects; and now requires the services of a collector of Lancashire in the Nibley. The "British" is destined for that purpose, but failed to meet with any one who could assist him in this branch of his inquiry.

Three unprinted volumes of observations of the sea, written by a man who has been entirely presented by the author to Sir John Herschel, are now transferred to the Astronomical Society, on the understanding that they shall be considered as belonging to Sir John Herschel during his lifetime, but after his decease shall become the property of the Society.

Miller Titus, of Union, Maine, while hunting in the Peconic woods with a party of friends, in the fall of 1857, was captured by Indians, who had been lurking about his long absence, traveled for twenty miles in the direction which they supposed he took, and on their return to camp on the second day, they found him lifeless. The Indians had scalped and quartered him, and had cut off his head.

Judge Taney's health is improving.

Colonel Fremont has obtained possession of all his mines in California.

Literary and Art Items.

It is generally known that Prince Lucien is endeavoring to obtain, for philosophical purposes, specimens of the several dialects which prevail in England, the seat of

THE LEMOINE INFANTICIDE CASE IN FRANCE.

UNUSUAL CASE OF SEDUCTION OF A SERVANT BY A YOUNG LAD—BEING OF AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD, AND BURNING OF ITS BODY BY ITS GRANDMOTHER.

A very remarkable trial began at Orleans, France, on the 3rd of December.

Mme. Lemoine, a lady of fortune, residing at Chinon, near Tours, was indicted, with her daughter, on the charge of burning the illegitimate offspring of the latter under circumstances which were frightful and degrading.

Mme. Lemoine moved in the best circles, kept her carriage, and occupied a prominent position in society. The father of the child seems to have been a servant in Mme. Lemoine's employment.

At first the two prisoners were brought into court. Mme. Lemoine is forty-three years of age, and is described as still very handsome.

Her daughter, Mlle. Angelina, is described as unusually beautiful.

After the usual preliminaries, the greener read the acte d'accusation, which is as follows:

THE INDICTMENT.

There existed at Chinon, at the commencement of this century, a family of the name of Mingot, who moved in the best position. One of the members of that family was a judge at the tribunal of Chinon. But that sort of justice was not calculated to last. In 1855, Victoire Mingot, one of the prisoners, contrived a marriage, with some secret and sly negotiations, the foot of a steep hillock. The daughter climbed to the top, and then rolled herself down the steep incline like a barrel. This too significant performance was twice repeated. The daughter Angelina had partly concealed her pregnancy, and her mother, her mother wanted her to roll down a staircase, and only desired her on saying, "But, mother, you don't want to kill me." However, the vigorous constitution of Angelina set all these criminal attempts at defiance. It soon became evident that the marriage would take place in maturity, and under the usual conditions. This new situation necessitated another remedy, or more correctly, another crime. Madame Lemoin and her daughter shrink from it.

At the time of the August rains began to circulate that Angelina had been delivered.

She had been seen writhing dragging herself along company with her mother, towards the public promenade, on the night of the 1st of July. She had a red face, the swash which for some time past had concealed her figure was replaced by a sickly malady. Notwithstanding all these premonitory paleness and debility had been remarked. Soon the pregnancy was discovered.

But pregnancy and scandal were now out of the question. The word of infanticide was on every lip.

The duty of justice then commenced. Madame Lemoin was summoned to the Procurator's office. She protested against the charge which was uttered against her daughter. She was asked why, as that calamity affected her so much, she had never applied to justice to have the slanderer discovered.

She replied, "Let me have a hearing, and then I will tell you what I know." When I told her that she had killed the child, she could only have done so in that way."

"You say that you know your mother meant to kill the child?" "No, I know that she meant to do it, but I did not know that she had done it."

At the same time as killing it, she had planned to give birth to it.

She had been seen writhing dragging herself along company with her mother, towards the public promenade, on the night of the 1st of July. She had a red face, the swash which for some time past had concealed her figure was replaced by a sickly malady. Notwithstanding all these premonitory paleness and debility had been remarked. Soon the pregnancy was discovered.

But pregnancy and scandal were now out of the question. The word of infanticide was on every lip.

The following Revolutionary soldiers are members on the roll of the State of Kentucky.

Thomas Becknell, Madison county, aged 96 years.

Henry Bird, Morgan county, aged 96 years.

Elijah Deneen, Rockcastle county, aged 97 years.

Inoch Goodman, Monroe county, aged 97 years.

JAMES HOWARD, Breathitt county, aged 107 years.

John Jones, Mercer county, aged 90 years.

William Lang, Shadoky county, age unknown.

Anthony Phelps, La Roi county, aged 97 years.

George Rogers, Wayne county, aged 95 years.

James Sherill, Green county, aged 97 years.

On the 20th of July, the British army entered the town, and burnt the church of that liberty. Nevertheless, it would be difficult to imagine upon what the British army entered the town.

Under these circumstances, Angelina having reached her fifteenth year, was heard to
